Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hata et al. (5,878,393).

As to claim 1, Hata teaches a method for converting text into a concatenated voice by utilizing a digital dictionary of sampled sounds that have been recorded and stored in advance, the dictionary including speech items (phonemes, words) where for each speech item a plurality of "inflection" are stored (three different inflections for each speech item in the dictionary are stored in Hata) by establishing multiple/different recordings representing a plurality of inflection for each word/sample in the dictionary (Col.4, lines 27-35) that represent various position for each inflection (phonological position) with respect to combining it with the adjacent speech items(Col.4, lines 37-55); and the method including the step of selecting the appropriate "inflection" and concatenating the speech items by employing the selected inflection for playing back the text (Col.6, lines 45-54).

As to claims 2-4, Hata teaches where the different inflection stored for a each speech item also takes into consideration the pronunciation based on the adjacent speech item (Col.5, lines 15-30).

As to claim 5-8, Hata teaches where all the beginning and the ending 'sounds' of the speech items in the word entries adjacent to the speech item are examined for selecting the proper inflection (Col.6, lines 30-42).

Claim 9-16 are analogous to claims 1-8 and are rejected for the fore going reasons by Hata.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-16 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
